Focus

We can classify adverbs according to their meaning. A thesaurus is helpful for doing this.

The car sped (quickly, speedily, hurriedly) along the road.

The adverbs in the brackets all mean roughly the same thing.

Check it out

- 1. Match up the pairs of adverbs with similar meanings in Set A and Set B.
 - a) Set A

quickly
slowly
noisily
quietly
happily

Set B sluggishly silently speedily merrily loudly) Set A clearly

poorly
sadly
gently
tiredly

Set B

softly
wearily
plainly
badly
miserably

Practice

1. Rewrite the sentences below. Replace the adverb in each with an adverb of similar meaning from the box.

- a) The man was dressed shabbily.
- b) The knight fought the dragon courageously.
- c) I will probably try again another time.
- d) The shopkeeper eyed the customer warily.
- f) I accepted my present gratefully.
- g) The children argued furiously.
- h) I jumped over the wall awkwardly.
- i) The children divided the sweets equally.

thankfully
untidily clumsily
fairly angrily
bravely possibly cautiously

Challenger

1. Divide the adverbs from the word wall into six sets. Each set should contain three adverbs with similar meanings.

pleasantly	ехр	expertly		dly
sweetly		cleverly		haughtily
worriedly abr		uptly	ly fearfully
tenderly		boastfully		charmingly
anxiously sude		denly has		stily
gently		arrogantly		skilfully

So – what have you learned about classifying adverbs according to their meaning?