

Sentence Sort

Part A

There are four different types of sentences: statements, commands, exclamations and questions. Match the sentences to their sentence types:

| | |
|------------------------------------|-------------|
| How cross the crayons are! | statement |
| Where are Duncan's crayons? | exclamation |
| Duncan wants to do some colouring. | command |
| Open the box of crayons. | question |

Can you write some more examples of each type of sentence? See if your friend can label them correctly.

Sentence Sort

Part B

Add the correct punctuation mark at the end of each sentence and write what type of sentence it is using the lines provided.

Drew Daywalt is the author _____

What a cross-looking crayon this is _____

Open this book carefully _____

Why have the crayons quit _____

* Challenge Task *

Can you complete each sentence by choosing the missing word from the box below? Remember to add a capital letter if the word is at the start of the sentence.

_____ is Duncan?

_____ in carefully so you don't go over the lines.

_____ a beautiful picture this is!

The crayons are _____.

jump

what unhappy

who

why

don't

happy

colour

Sentence Sort Answers

Part A

There are four different types of sentences: statements, commands, exclamations and questions. Match the sentences to their sentence types:

| | | |
|------------------------------------|---|-------------|
| How cross the crayons are! | → | statement |
| Where are Duncan's crayons? | → | exclamation |
| Duncan wants to do some colouring. | → | command |
| Open the box of crayons. | → | question |

Can you write some more examples of each type of sentence? See if your friend can label them correctly.

Children's own response.

planit

English | Year 2 | Guided Reading | The Day the Crayons Quit | Lesson 1 of 4

Sentence Sort Answers

Part A

There are four different types of sentences: statements, commands, exclamations and questions. Match the sentences to their sentence types:

| | | |
|------------------------------------|---|-------------|
| How cross the crayons are! | → | statement |
| Where are Duncan's crayons? | → | exclamation |
| Duncan wants to do some colouring. | → | command |
| Open the box of crayons. | → | question |

Can you write some more examples of each type of sentence? See if your friend can label them correctly.

Children's own response.

planit

English | Year 2 | Guided Reading | The Day the Crayons Quit | Lesson 1 of 4

Sentence Sort Answers

Part B

Add the correct punctuation mark at the end of each sentence and write what type of sentence it is using the lines provided.

Drew Daywalt is the author. Statement

What a cross-looking crayon this is! Exclamation

Open the book carefully. Command

Why have the crayons quit? Question

Challenge!

Can you complete each sentence by choosing the missing word from the box below?

Who is Duncan?

Colour in carefully so you don't go over the lines.

What a beautiful picture this is!

The crayons are unhappy.